Art Guild in Ste. Genevieve, MO

A non-profit organization, we are a growing, inclusive group of fine artists and arts enthusiasts.

We are committed to the arts, as well as the history and legacy of the creative spirits who have lived and worked in this area before us.

We welcome new members as participating artists from any fine arts discipline and those who consider themselves patrons of the arts. We have thespians, musicians, photographers, and graphic artists among our practicing members. We have teachers, business people and laborers among our patrons.

The visual arts and Ste Genevieve have been synonymous since the 1820's with the arrival of John James Audubon. In the 1930's through the 1940's the Ste Genevieve Art Colony and Summer School of Art significantly contributed to twentieth century American art history.

Today's Ste Genevieve Art Guild continues to uphold this tradition.

We encourage creativity and emerging talent through our annual events, monthly meetings, educational demos and scholarship fund.

We strive to develop activities and programs to enhance the Guild membership and surrounding communities.

Thank you for your support.
